OFA Fiscal Note

State Impact:

Agency Affected	Fund-Effect	FY 08 $	FY 09 $
Judicial Dept.	GF - Revenue Gain	Potential Minimal	Potential Minimal
Judicial Department (Probation); Correction, Dept.	GF - Cost	Potential Minimal	Potential Minimal

Note: GF=General Fund

Municipal Impact: None

Explanation

The bill establishes a new crime of “organized retail theft.” Since offenders are subject to equivalent penalties under existing larceny statutes, any variance in sentencing is likely to be negligible. The potential fiscal impact associated with criminal fines and the cost of incarceration or probation under the bill is therefore minimal.

The Out Years

The annualized ongoing cost identified above would continue into the future subject to inflation. Revenues would remain relatively constant since fines are set by statute.

OLR Bill Analysis*SB 1306AN ACT CONCERNING ORGANIZED RETAIL THEFT.SUMMARY:

This bill establishes a new crime of “organized retail theft,” which it defines as (a) taking possession of, carrying away, transferring, or causing to be carried away retail property worth more than $1,000 or (b) taking or causing it to be moved to, or placed in the control of, a retail property fence if done with intent to gain monetarily, in conjunction with another person, and within a 180-day period. It defines “retail property fence” as a person or business that buys retail property knowing that it was stolen. The bill makes a violation a class D felony (see BACKGROUND). By law, someone who engages in this conduct commits larceny.

The bill also establishes a new crime of “accessory to organized retail theft,” which it defines as receiving, possessing, concealing, storing, bartering, selling, or disposing of retail property acquired in violation of its provisions, with intent to distribute the proceeds or otherwise promote, manage, carry on, or facilitate a violation. The bill makes a violation a class B misdemeanor (see BACKGROUND). The bill provides that it is not a defense that the property was obtained by means other than by violating the prohibition against committing organized retail theft. By law, someone who engages in conduct that intentionally aids another commit a crime is punishable as if he or she were the offender.

EFFECTIVE DATE: October 1, 2007

BACKGROUNDPenalties

The penalty for larceny depends on the value of the stolen property; there are six different classifications. Generally, the penalty depends on the property's value or type, or on the circumstances, and can range from as much as 20 years in prison to as little as up to three months in prison. For example, if the value is over $ 10,000, it is larceny in the first degree, which is a class B felony (CGS § 53a-122). This is punishable by up to 20 years in prison, or a fine of up to $ 15,000, or both. If the value exceeds $1,000, it is a Class D felony, which is punishable by up to five years in prison, a fine of up to $5,000, or both. If the value is $ 250 or less, the offense is a class C misdemeanor. This is punishable by up to three months in prison, a fine of up to $ 500, or both (CGS § 53a-125b).

A person is guilty of larceny by receiving stolen property if he receives, retains, or disposes of stolen property knowing or believing that it has probably been stolen, unless the property is received, retained, or disposed of with purpose to restore it to the owner (CGS § 53a-119(8)).

A person is guilty of larceny by shoplifting who intentionally takes possession of merchandise offered or exposed for sale by a store with the intention of converting it to his own use, without buying it. A person intentionally concealing unpurchased merchandise, either on or outside the premises, is presumed to have concealed it with the intention of converting it to his own use without buying it (CGS § 53a-119(9)).

Criminal Liability for Acts of Another

A person, acting with the mental state required for commission of an offense, who solicits, requests, commands, importunes, or intentionally aids another person to engage in conduct that constitutes an offense is criminally liable for such conduct and may be prosecuted and punished as if he were the principal offender (CGS § 53a-8).
